

My name is Nancy Coffey. I am very excited to be considered for re-election as the TASP Graduate Student Representative for the upcoming year. This past year was such an awesome experience. I am grateful to have sat on the board at such a pivotal time. I would love the opportunity to continue to be a voice of my fellow graduate students.

A little about me; I have completed all my coursework at Texas Tech and I am currently working on my dissertation in hopes of getting a doctorate in Educational Psychology specializing in School Psychology. I am continuing my work with Dr. Hawley on power and aggression. And have had several opportunities to train pre-service teachers on our work. I am just started my internship year at a local special educational co-op and a super excited about school starting. I am very lucky to have a “boring” life which consists of a wonderful husband, two awesome boys, four nutty dogs, and BIG aquarium.

I hope that you have a great school year and to see you all you all at the TASP annual convention in October.
